Kyushu Economy International (KEI) provides information on Kyushu's business environment and international exchange projects, from time to time.

OKEI was established in July 2001 as a unified organization for international economic exchange for Kyushu in cooperation with local public organizations, economic organizations, and private companies in the region.

OKEI aims to revitalize and autonomously develop Kyushu through industrial exchanges and personnel exchanges between Kyushu and overseas projects. Therefore, KEI publicizes Kyushu's attractive industrial location environment and environmental resources to overseas countries in an integrated manner. At the same time, KEI promotes innovation and a harmonious regional promotion through industrial location and industrial exchange, by attracting domestic and foreign companies.

Summary of operations

1. Planning and proposing internationalization strategies

KEI considers plans on effective collaborative projects and surveys for the entire Kyushu region and implements them while exchanging opinions and sharing information among KEI members.

2. Public relations and information dissemination

KEI utilizes website and public relations materials related to the Kyushu economy and widely disseminates information both home and abroad on Kyushu's business environment and corporate support projects on overseas expansion.

- (1) Economic exchange projects with the Asian region (e.g., Yellow Sea region, China, South Korea, and ASEAN)
- (2) Seminars etc. to provide information on overseas business and economic situations, including the latest overseas local information, market trends, and support system usage.
- (3) Overseas exhibitions, business meetings with overseas buyers, etc. to support an expansion of sales channels in Asia. Europe, the United States, etc. KEI develops a wide range of overseas expansion support and economic exchange projects, including the above.

KEI promotes mutual understanding between Kyushu companies and global human resources, such as international students, and the recruitment and retention of international students in Kyushu companies. Accordingly, KEI implements projects, including opportunities for exchange and making contact points.

5. Investment promotion

Tel. 092-482-5423

KEI collects information on the promotion of investment (internal investment) in Kyushu, implements external promotion, and makes efforts to promote investment in
